

Rollercoaster Faith

...thoughts on hope and wrath, trees and mountains.

1. What are two themes presented in Job 13 and 14? _____
2. What is Job's first hope? (see 13:18) _____
3. What are the two conditions Job looks for in a fair trial between him and God?
 - i. That God would _____ his hand from him.
 - ii. That God would _____ the charges against him.
4. Why does Job consider his first hope hopeless? (circle all that are true)
 - i. God is unfair.
 - ii. God is too powerful, too wise, and too much for any person.
 - iii. Mankind is pitiable and unclean, how can one stand before God's judgment?
5. On what basis does the infinite God judge finite and weak mankind? _____
6. Job considers a tree to be a fitting example to describe the hope of mankind. (Yes/No)
7. What are the three things that would be the ultimate hope for Job?
 - i. _____
 - ii. _____
 - iii. _____
8. Job's ultimate hope is the hope we have in Christ and the new covenant. (Yes/No)
9. When we have a great hope, we can endure through terrible affliction. (Yes/No)
10. Job is filled with despair when he doubts who _____ truly is.
11. Job has hope when he believes who _____ truly is.
12. Why should we believe God for who he is?
